BALTUSROL GOLF CLUB

Baltusrol Golf Club, synonymous with championship golf, sits at the base of Baltusrol Mountain in northern New Jersey, only a stone's throw from New York City. With a rich heritage that dates back to 1895, Baltusrol is considered one of the country's premier private golf clubs. Its two championship courses, the Lower and Upper, have played distinguished roles on the national golf stage since their creation by Golden Age architect A.W. Tillinghast. Together, the courses have hosted 16 major championships, including seven U.S. Opens and one PGA Championship. This year the PGA Championship will return for what will be a special championship, the PGA of America's centennial event. With its long history in championship golf, Baltusrol is one of a select number of clubs which can claim virtually all of the greatest players in the game have walked its fairways; from Harry Vardon and Bobby Jones to Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus to Tiger Woods and Phil Mickelson. In fact, Baltusrol's hallowed grounds have been the scene of some of the most historic moments in championship golf.

Pamela Liebman

2016 CHAIRMAN'S AWARD

Pamela Liebman is President and Chief Executive Officer of The Corcoran Group, the country's premier residential real estate firm. Under Pamela's dynamic leadership, Corcoran is the leading, most successful brokerage firm in each of the markets it serves, New York, the Hamptons and South Florida, alone have achieved sales of over $19 billion annually.

Pamela began her career at Corcoran. She was quickly identified as a natural leader with an innate ability for attracting and developing talent, and a sharp analytical mind with a strategic approach to growing the real estate business. Her ability to anticipate market trends and develop strategies to swiftly capitalize on market opportunities led to her appointment as President and Chief Executive Officer of The Corcoran Group in 2000.

Pamela accelerated the firm's growth by expanding into key East Coast markets with acquisitions of top tier brokerage firms in the South Florida and Hamptons markets and with the purchase of Citi Habitats, New York City's largest rental brokerage firm. Under Pamela's direction, she founded Corcoran Group Marketing, New York's leading new development marketing firm which subsequently acquired The Sunshine Group, the nation's leading marketing agency for new luxury condominium projects, to create Corcoran Sunshine Marketing Group. Furthering the reach of Corcoran on an international level, Pamela established a Corcoran global presence through a strategic alliance with Monaco-based international luxury real estate firm, John Taylor.

Pamela also successfully negotiated the partnership with Related Companies and Corcoran Sunshine Marketing Group to lead the marketing and sales of Related Companies' Hudson Yards residential collection, part of the largest and most prestigious new real estate development project in the history of the United States. Liebman's significant involvement in the new development business has contributed to Corcoran Sunshine Marketing Group currently having the largest pipeline of residential new development properties in the country.

As the driving force in creating the firm's leadership position, Pamela is committed to sustaining Corcoran's continued growth through innovative marketing platforms that satisfy buyer needs as they search, sell and purchase a home, and for providing Corcoran agents a comprehensive cutting-edge technology platform of advanced sales data, research, market intelligence and reporting tools to support their efforts and continued success.

Named one of the Top 50 Most Powerful Women in New York by Crain's New York Business for the past eight years, Pamela is recognized both nationally and internationally as a leading real estate expert and is frequently tapped by leading domestic and global news organizations for her unique perspective and market expertise. She is a frequent speaker and panelist at various business and philanthropic conferences and events.

Born in New York City and educated at the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, and the European Business School in London, Pamela is a member of the Young Presidents' Organization, the Partnership for New York City and the Real Estate Board of New York (REBNY). She serves on numerous panels and committees, including REBNY's Executive Committee and its Board of Governors.

A long-term supporter of charitable and humanitarian organizations, Pamela is a member of the American Cancer Society's CEOs Against Cancer and a founding board member of the Wipe Out Leukemia Forever Foundation. She serves on the board of the USS Intrepid Foundation and is a supporter of the BASF Inner City Scholarship Fund.

Pamela is married to Dr. Michael Krouse and is the mother of two daughters.
